

Crossed Bayonets Symbol For Camp Hale Soldiers

2/4/44
Builder - Daily Courier

Camp Hale, Colo.—This insignia will be very much in evidence soon as those haughty mountain and ski troopers from Camp Hale flash them on their sleeves as a mark of the 10th Division's symbol.

Two bright scarlet crossed bayonets bordered in white are set on a white-bordered brilliant blue powder-keg background. The blue of the powder keg signifies the Infantry Division, while the crossed bayonets simulate the numerical designation of the organization.