Next to each statement is the overall positive and negative response for all respondents. Under each demographic is the number of respondents (N) and the (%) of respondents who fall into the category. For example, there were 27 respondents who were male at birth which is 16.6% of responses. If there were less than 5 responses in a given demographic the responses were removed from the report. In total there were 163 respondents who identified as pursuing a master's degree.

There are 5 statements where the normally positive responses of agree or strongly agree are considered negative. These statements are considered to have an inverse relationship to the rest of the statements. For this report these statements have been recoded to be in alignment with the rest of the statements. The statements can be found in the data details sections and are highlighted in gray throughout the report.
