In the 1960’s, the area was converted into the Auraria campus. Today, these houses are occupied by offices, resources and restaurants for students and staff. While you’re here, check out B-cycle - where you can rent and return bicycles to stations just like this across the city.

The award-winning Center for Visual Art (CVA) and one of billboard magazine’s top music business schools DIME Denver (commercial music) facilities are both off campus in the Santa Fe Arts District. These locations provide a bridge from campus into the community.

Metropolitan State University of Denver sits right in the heart of downtown and less than an hour from the mountains. Take a day trip to ski, hike and enjoy the outdoors, or walk to theme parks, live music, restaurants, theatres, sporting events and more. From the city to the slopes, campus gives you access to experiences both in and out of the classroom.
