Dear member of the Spring 2011 graduating class:

Congratulations on the successful completion of your hard-earned baccalaureate degree from Metropolitan State College of Denver. I encourage you to take a moment and celebrate, along with your family and friends, a dream fulfilled.

No matter what your degree, no matter what career path you choose to pursue, your education at Metro State will benefit you in incalculable ways in the years to come. Beyond the skills, knowledge and connections you have obtained here, you have strengthened your ability to learn and to continue learning for the rest of your lives. I charge you to use your newly acquired skills and knowledge to your benefit and to that of the community which has made your education possible.

Our shared aim at Metro State has been ambitious—our work together characterized by a constant striving toward self-improvement. And, just as you now have a solid foundation on which to build a career or further your education, Metro State is building on its strong heritage of academic excellence to achieve its goal of preeminence. We now offer master's degrees in accounting, teacher education and social work—and encourage you to consider enrolling if you choose to pursue graduate work.

Whatever path you travel, remember that you have a home at Metro State. We hope that you will return often to talk with special professors, attend an interesting lecture, meet with current students and share your stories with us. When you do, you will find a campus that looks different than the one you attended, with new structures such as the Student Success Building and the Hotel and Hospitality Learning Center solidifying the College's unique identity and demonstrating its evolution.

The knowledge, experiences and skills you have attained at Metro State make you ready and qualified to accept the challenge of engaging as a citizen in a culturally diverse society. We eagerly anticipate your accomplishments, both large and small, and your continuing engagement with the Metro State community, which promises you a very warm welcome whenever you return.

With warmest and best wishes,

Stephen M. Jordan, Ph.D.
President, Metropolitan State College of Denver

Commencement Speaker U.S. Representative Jared Polis

Rep. Jared Polis of Boulder (D) was elected to Congress in 2008 and represents the Second Congressional District of Colorado. He is the first openly gay male elected to Congress as a freshman.

Polis serves on the House Rules Committee and the House Democratic Steering and Policy Committee and is a Democratic Caucus Regional Whip. He is a charter member and vice-chair of the Sustainable Energy and Environmental Coalition, the chair of the Immigration Task Force of the Progressive Caucus and an honorary co-chair of Third Way.

A Boulder native born to parents active in the 1960s peace movement, Polis attended Princeton University, where he co-founded his first company, American Information Systems. He has since launched successful business ventures, including: bluemountain.com, Proflowers.com and other online start-ups; a chain of movie theatres that screen first-run Hollywood films dubbed or subtitled in Spanish; and most recently, Aquacopia, a venture capital firm that invests in early-stage entrepreneurs in seafood farming. He has been named an “Entrepreneur of the Year” by Ernst and Young and one of America’s “Top Ten Young Entrepreneurs” by Success Magazine.

After his early and successful start in the business sector, Polis came to realize and value the role education plays in the economy; he felt that education is the only meaningful, long-term stimulus initiative we could make to invest in and reinvigorate the American economy. He ran for and won a seat on the Colorado State Board of Education in 2000 and served as the youngest chair in the board’s history. During his six-year tenure, Polis strongly advocated school reform and enhancing educational opportunities. He helped pass Amendment 23 to improve state funding for public schools in Colorado and chaired the board’s Online Education Task Force.

Also in 2000, Polis founded the Jared Polis Foundation to improve and expand access to education by awarding micro-grants to teachers and schools that have shown outstanding commitment to education in their community. The foundation’s Community Computer Connection program refurbishes and donates more than 3,500 computers a year to schools and organizations that serve disadvantaged students.

Polis has founded two charter schools to help meet the needs of Colorado’s underserved students. In 2004, seeing the difficulty faced by older immigrant youth in mainstream public schools, he established and served as the superintendent of the New America School, which today operates four campuses in Colorado and plans to open a campus in New Mexico. In 2005 Polis co-founded the Academy of Urban Learning to address the challenges faced by teens who struggle with homelessness or unstable living conditions.

Polis has served as the co-chair of the Colorado Commission for High School Improvement and chair of the National Association of State Boards of Education’s Commission on Financial and Investor Literacy.

Metro State: On the Road to Preeminence

Established in 1965, Metropolitan State College of Denver enrolls more than 24,000 students, with more in-state undergraduates than any other institution in Colorado. In 2005, Metro State set the ambitious long-term goal of becoming the preeminent public urban baccalaureate college in the nation, toward which it has made significant progress in myriad ways such as adding master's degrees to its offerings and being named a model Emerging Hispanic Serving Institution.

Metro State is steadfast in its mission to provide students from all walks of life with a high-quality education that prepares them for rewarding careers, postgraduate education and lifelong learning in a multicultural, global and technological society. With diversity as a core value, Metro State is proud to enroll more students of color than any other four-year institution in Colorado.

The individualized and relevant education the College provides encompasses high-quality academics, an unsurpassed faculty and a unique urban experience rich with diversity, degree choices and community impact. These attributes make Metro State Colorado's best value in higher education.

The College boasts accomplished professors who are known nationally—even internationally—in their fields. For instance, as editor of the Indian Journal of Economics and Business, Professor Kishore Kulkarni hosted the journal's first international conference on business and economic issues, in December in New Delhi, India. And Psychology and Women's Studies Professor AnnJanette Alejano-Steele is a nationally sought-after expert in the scourge of human trafficking.

Metro State students are making a name for themselves as well. Jessica Taves, who is graduating today with an individualized degree in world photojournalism, was the only student photographer among professionals at the Colorado Rapids MLS Cup Championship game. Students in this semester's Strategic Management course earned a Global Top 100 ranking in the Business Strategy Game, an online competition among 5,000 collegiate teams from 20 countries. And Tyrell Donaldson took first place in the Rocky Mountain Theatre Association's acting competition.

With the addition of the 1,600 members of the Class of 2011, there are now more than 69,000 proud Metro State alumni, the vast majority of whom remain in Colorado to live and work as our teachers, nurses, accountants, pilots, law enforcement officials, social workers and high-tech employees. Metro State graduates run businesses, contribute in the nonprofit sector and serve in government at the local and state levels. And, they are achieving their dreams. For instance, psychology graduate Col. Laura Jane Richardson is the first female commander of Ft. Myer in Arlington, Va., and Dr. Omar Hurricane, a physicist at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, won the 2009 Lawrence Award for National Security and Nonproliferation. Dave Zur, marketing and media communications, is senior vice president of operations and engineering at Altitude Sports and Entertainment. Criminalistics graduate Emma Hall was recently elected Boulder County coroner.

The accomplishments of our students and graduates, and the better lives that education brings them, are a great source of pride for Metro State and are an integral part of the foundation on which we are building a national reputation for preeminence.

Academic Attire

Academic attire is modeled after monks' clothing from the Middle Ages, when college faculty and students were members of religious orders. In England, the faculty of many colleges and universities still wear gowns, hoods and caps in the classroom.

In the early 20th century, colleges and universities throughout the world adopted guidelines for the design and colors of academic attire. An institution may design and register special attire for its administrators and graduates, but it must conform to certain standards. Once registered, the design/color combination may not be duplicated by other institutions.

The bachelor's gown is most often black and has long sleeves that taper to a point in the back. It is always worn closed. At Metro State, women do not wear a white collar with the gown. The hood worn by the President's Award recipient is a Metropolitan State College of Denver bachelor's degree hood and is worn by this student to represent the graduating class.

The gown signifying the master's degree is also usually black and may be worn open or closed. It features oblong sleeves that hang below the wrist, tapering to a square cut with a cutaway arc.

Although usually black, the doctoral gown is sometimes seen in colors—usually gold, purple, blue or red. The gown may be worn open or closed. The opening of the gown is faced with velvet and three velvet chevrons run across its bell-shaped sleeves. The velvet facing and chevrons may be black or the color representing the field of study.

The hood varies in length and shape according to the degree it represents—the shortest and smallest signifies the bachelor's degree and the longest and widest signifies the doctoral degree. The velvet bordering the hood represents the degree field of study. The colors most frequently seen at Metro State are royal blue – Philosophy; light blue – Education; yellow – Science; green – Medicine.

The satin lining of the hood, each a specific design, represents the college or university at which the individual earned his or her degree.

The Oxford Cap, or mortarboard as it is better known, completes the attire. In place of the hood, bachelor's candidates at Metro State wear colored tassels on the Oxford Cap to represent the academic department of the College from which they earned their degrees. Those holding graduate degrees usually wear black tassels, but those holding doctoral degrees may wear tassels of gold thread, and may elect to wear a four-sided or eight-sided velvet tam instead of the Oxford Cap. Some universities have designated the Cambridge Cap, a large, soft beret, for their administrators and those who have earned a doctoral degree at that institution.

Academic Distinction

You will notice that some of our graduates are wearing one or more cords, stoles or medallions of various colors or designs about the neck of their gowns to represent high academic achievement. Those graduates who have achieved overall excellence are recognized by the College through three areas of distinction:

Summa Cum Laude (with highest praise)

Gold and blue cord

Magna Cum Laude (with great praise)

Silver and blue cord

Cum Laude (with praise)

Bronze and blue cord

The College encourages students to enroll in and complete an especially rigorous course of interdisciplinary study in addition to the individual's major and minor study degree requirements. This course of study is known as the Honors Program.
