events, we are able to capture students in the moment while their head is in that space; it builds awareness of the resources and pathways to an elevated career development experience. This also serves as a resource for recruiters to recommend to students as they are in conversation at the event. We're thrilled that it was so well attended at the event, and plan to build on this model for future signature career events.

THE MONTH IN REVIEW

Spring Job & Internship Fair - April 5 Recap | Just last week, the Classroom to Career Hub hosted the Spring Job & Internship Fair, and it was a huge success with recent record breaking attendance of over 300 students! The energy from students and recruiters alike was fantastic, and Rowdy the Roadrunner even joined us in some networking. If you are interested in joining us for future career events, please keep an eye out on our website and CareerLink calendars.

Student Resource Lounge | As we evaluate and search for opportunities to bolster student career support and build more infrastructure for successful recruiting for our industry partners, we piloted the new "Student Resource Lounge" at the recent Spring Job & Internship Fair. The C2 Hub hosts a wide range of career resources for students and alums throughout the year as part of our workforce development portfolio, and this new on-site event feature will amplify that work.

PREPARE FOR ENGAGEMENT INTEREST & OUTCOMES SURVEY

Every semester, we request feedback from our partners regarding their preference and interest in engagement opportunities on campus, as well as an update of your hiring outcomes with MSU Denver students and alums. While post-event surveys help us refine specific experiences, this survey helps inform our overall strategy development and refinement. While we will share the survey link in a future edition of the Front Runner, now is a great time to gather thoughts on engagement interest, as well as some of your team's stats on recent Roadrunner interviews, offers and hires. Stay tuned!

INFORMATION SESSIONS

Have you considered holding an Information Session on campus? It's a great opportunity to meet candidates and get to know them in a more relaxed setting. In addition to having more time to answer student questions and getting to know potential applicants, you can use that time to delve into the culture of your organization, and get your brand noticed on campus.

Though the semester is winding down, we are already thinking ahead to the opportunities we will make available to students starting again in the Fall semester. If you are also thinking ahead, simply sign into your CareerLink account, and navigate to the Events tab on the left menu to find and request Information Sessions for the Fall semester.

STAY CONNECTED
