Daina Warren

Wednesday, October 18, 2023, 5:00pm
Center for Visual Art, 965 Santa Fe Drive, Denver, CO

Daina Warren is a member of the Akamihk Montana First Nation in Maskwacis, Alberta. She holds a Master's in Critical and Curatorial Studies and was selected to participate in the International First Nations Curators exchange in Australia, New Zealand, and Canada. She won the Hnatyshyn Foundation Award for Curatorial Excellence in 2018 and was Director of Urban Shaman Contemporary Aboriginal Art Gallery for over ten years. She was most recently the Artist in Residency Program Manager at the Institute of American Indian Arts in Santa Fe. Warren also curated the exhibition Transformative Power: Indigenous Feminisms at the Vicki Myhren Gallery in Denver in 2022 and will share ideas behind this exhibition at her public lecture at the CVA.
