

2026-2027 Catalog Year

Psychology Minor

Department of
Psychological Sciences
College of Letters, Arts and Sciences

The minor in Psychology is designed to help prepare students who are pursuing a career that involves working with people and/or understanding people's thoughts, feelings, and behavior. Students will gain a foundation in the science of behavior and mental processes and the application of psychological principles to real-world problems.

Required Course

- ☐ PSY 1001—Introductory Psychology

Content Areas

Choose one course each from any two of the four content areas listed below:

Social

- ☐ PSY 2410—Social Psychology
- ☐ PSY 3030—Cultural Psychology
- ☐ PSY 3050—Psychology of Gender
- ☐ PSY 3700—Psych of Group Prejudice

Cognitive/Biological

- ☐ PSY 2120—Brain & Behavior
- ☐ PSY 3575—Cognitive Psychology
- ☐ PSY 4520—Sensation & Perception
- ☐ PSY 4540—Behavioral Neuroscience

Clinical/Counseling

- ☐ PSY 2150—Positive Psychology
- ☐ PSY 3000—Theories of Personality
- ☐ PSY 3620—Psychological Disorders
- ☐ PSY 4100—Clinical/Counseling Psych

Developmental

- ☐ PSY 2210—Psych of Human Dev
- ☐ PSY 3250—Child Psychology
- ☐ PSY 3260—Psych of Adolescence
- ☐ PSY 3270—Adulthood & Aging

Psych Electives

Choose 5 more PSY courses (15 cr.), other than PSY 8888. Consult with an advisor and the catalog for restrictions and to identify courses related to your personal goals and interests.

Please see the Academic Catalog for full details.

Updated 8/31/2026

