

December Blog Post – The End of A Semester

The Fall Semester has finally ended! It's time to rest and recharge after months of hard work. December offers a chance to slow down, reflect on your progress, and appreciate how much you've grown. As you look ahead, imagine the experiences and opportunities waiting for you in the semesters to come. Winter Break will soon start, so make sure to make the time to have fun in snowy weather! Don't have any ideas? Here are some fun recommendations:

- Christmas is around the block on the 25th! Take time to shop for gifts for your loved ones
- Bake holiday cookies and/or make hot cocoa!
- Watch classic holiday movies or do a themed movie marathon
- Build a gingerbread house
- Have a cozy game night with friends or family
- Do holiday crafts like making ornaments or cards
- Have a festive music or karaoke session
- Host a small indoor holiday party or potluck

Wanna go out? Here are some fun events happening in Colorado!

- Until December 23rd, the Denver Christkindlmarkt is being held at the Tivoli Quad on Auraria Campus! Enjoy the authentic German-style markets with craft and good vendors, and many entertainers to watch. Free and open for all!
- Both the Denver Zoo and Elitch Gardens will be having beautiful light shows all month, until January 4th.
- Another light show will happen at Civic Center Park; it will recur daily this month until late January.
- Santa will be visiting the Denver Union Station on December 14th and 21st! Make sure to meet him!

That's all for now! Stay warm and have an amazing winter break!
